STATE BOOSTERS OPEN MEETING

COMMERCIAL OFFICERS ARE IN MANITOU

Members Association Have Program of Business and Pleasure Mixed

The meeting of the Colorado Association of Commercial Executives was opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Mansions hotel, in Manitou. The address of welcome was given by R. E. L. Giles, secretary of the Manitou Springs Hot Iron club. Various reports were read.

Fire Insurance Subscription Rates in Colorado, the first subject up for discussion, was referred to the executive committee for further action. With Secretary C. F. Daniels of the Fort Collins chamber of commerce in charge, Charles T. Fertig of Colorado Springs, president of the State Insurance Agents association, has been invited to give the insurance agents' point of view, and the discussion will be brought up again today.

The trip up the Mt. Manitou scenic incline, which was scheduled for yesterday morning, was postponed until today on account of the weather, and the wives of the visiting delegates were treated to a ride through the Garden of the Gods and Cliff Dwellers canon. The entire party of delegates, with their wives, took the trip up Williams canon and went through the Cave of the Winds.

An interesting address on "The Retail Merchants' What They Can Accomplish by Coordinated Effort" was delivered by George E. Collinson of Denver, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, Denver chamber of commerce. He told how they can accomplish great advancement by protecting their own interests and advancing their fellow merchants' welfare.

Exposition Publicity Man Talks.

The feature of last night's meeting at the smoker was the address of Winfield Higabloom, director of publicity for the Panama-California exposition in San Diego in 1915. He said that the exposition is to be "one of opportunity" and "the dawn of a new era in the development of the plans for the great exposition, stating that there is no rivalry between San Francisco and San Diego, although each will have an exposition in 1915. He read a telegram he received yesterday stating that the San Diego residents have voted to increase the subscriptions to $250,000 in order to extend the scope of the exposition to the greatest extent.

The outdoor exhibit feature he described carefully, telling of the plans for having each state represented with its products growing in spaces allotted to the respective states, and he said that Colorado might make arrangements to be well represented and that the publicity bureau will take great pains to advertise all states so represented.

The exposition is planning to show human progress from the very lowest stages to the most recent triumphs and achievements, and will be an education feature surpassing all other expositions in that respect, according to Mr. Higabloom.

Guests of Hot Iron Club.

J. H. Jenkins, president of the executive association, made a short talk in which he thanked the Hot Iron club of Manitou for their hospitality, and in the course of his remarks spoke on the good roads question and his feeling on the commercial world, and advocated the perfect road proposition as a drawing card for tourists to the Pike's Peak region.

W. B. Kirby, president of the Hot Iron club, was called upon for a few remarks and was received with applause. The association members are guests.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Withdraw From State and District Meetings if Any Republican Candidates Barred

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—The Republican party of Teller county in assembly today took a strong stand against any attempts that may be made at the state convention to bar delegates because of any preference on national issues. In fact, the Teller county delegation was instructed to withdraw from the convention if such tactics are attempted.

Besides the nomination of a county ticket, the assembly passed a strong resolution endorsing the present Republican judges from the Fourth judicial district, J. W. Shoaf and W. S. Morris, and instructed the delegates to advance their candidacies by all honorable means.

The assembly, by resolution, made the claim that every nomination of political justice, the nomination of one candidate from Teller county for the district bench should be made. The delegates were instructed to work for the nomination of E. J. Boughton for district attorney.

Regarding the instructions to delegates to withdraw under certain conditions from the state convention, the resolution says:

"It has come to the knowledge of the party in this county that efforts are being made by parties outside of Teller county to exclude a part or all of the Republicans elected thereto, and in the sincere belief that no Republican should be barred from participation in the selection and election of the local tickets in the various districts, the Republicans of Teller county, after free and open primaries, having constituted an assembly and selected a county ticket and delegates to the various assemblies upon national questions, unanimously express disapproval of any such plan of exclusion, and the delegates chosen, while instructed to use every effort to carry the Teller county plan of cooperation into effect in the respective assemblies, are further directed and instructed to resist any attempt to exclude any portion of the delegates, and further, that so soon as it might be evident that any portion of a delegation to the state convention is to be excluded solely on account of preference of national issues, the delegation from Teller county has been directed and instructed to withdraw."

County Ticket Nominated.

The county ticket nominated follows: Sheriff, J. H. Muehlenberg, incumbent.

D. F. CARPENTER TO IGNORE ASSEMBLY

Candidate for District Attorney Disapproves Machine's Steam Roller Tactics

Dunbar F. Carpenter, candidate for district attorney, is one of the prominent Republicans of Colorado Springs, who strongly disapproves the action of the county central committee in demanding a pledge for Taft from all who participate in the assembly. He does not recognize the authority of the committee to determine who is a Republican, and will not allow his name to be placed before the assembly, preferring to place his candidacy before the Republican voters by independent petition at the September primaries. Mr. Carpenter said yesterday:

"I am a candidate as a Progressive Republican for the nomination on the Republican ticket for the office of district attorney for the Fourth judicial district, which includes El Paso and six other counties.

"I shall put my name straight up to the Republican electors at the September primary.

"My name will not go before the acid test assembly. I cannot and do not recognize the right of the county central committee to determine who is and who is not a Republican. That question can safely be left to the voters themselves.

"I leave my candidacy to the unbiased decision of Republican electors. I infinitely prefer honorable defeat at their hands to nomination by the influences which are attempting to deprive the people of their right to select their own servants."

CLIMBING SWEEPS NEVADA MINING CAMPS.

A SCORE OF DEATHS

RENO, Nev., July 18.—Ten bodies have been recovered and from five to 10 more persons are believed dead as a result of a cloudburst 30 miles from Lovelock, today, which destroyed the mining camp of Mazuma and partially destroyed the nearby camp of Seven Troughs. In Mazuma, which suffered most, it was at first believed nearly 100 persons were missing, but latest estimates place the loss of life at not more than 20.

Seven Troughs is situated half way up a mountain side, with Mazuma at the base in a canon three miles away. The wall of water swept down the canon, carrying buildings before it, and overturning the Mazuma hotel. Those in the streets were carried down the gulch, and many were cast to safety along the sides of the canon.

Word was received from Vernon by telephone, and doctors, nurses and automobiles, with provisions, have gone from Lovelock. The body of John Trencard was found three miles from his home.

No loss of life, but much property damage, is reported in Seven Troughs. The dead.

JOHN TRENCARD, merchant at Mazuma, formerly of Victor, Colo.

MRS. JOHN TRENCARD, his wife.

MRS. MILEX, Mazuma.

MISS RESE, Mazuma.

MIKE QUALEN, miner, Mazuma.

SON OF SUPERINTENDENT GILLESPIE, Mazuma.

FOUR BOYS OF THE KEOSH FAMILY.

WISCONSIN ELECTOR WILL IGNORE TAFT

FOND DU LAC, Wis., July 18.—Otto J. Zander of Brill, Republican nominee for presidential elector, in a letter to the state central committee today, said, if elected, he would be unable to cast his vote for President Taft, but would vote for Robert M. La Follette or some other Republican whom he regarded as Progressive. He added if his plan did not meet with the approval of the committee, he would resign.

After publication of Zander's statement, Colonel John Hicks, one of the Republican presidential electors, made a statement endorsing Zander's position.

GAYNOR TAKES HAND IN MURDER MYSTERY

Questions Officer Against Whom Slain Gambler Made First Specific Charge

NEW YORK, July 18.—The trail leads where I thought it did, remarked District Attorney Whitman late today. This was just after he had heard the statement of "Jack" Rose, the friend of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and the man who hired the gray automobile in which the slayers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, drove to the spot where their victim met his fate early last Tuesday morning. Little by little the involved skein of motives and personalities behind the killing is being unraveled and tonight it seems probable that other important areas would follow speedily.

Rose's surrender and confession that he hired the "murder car," although declaring he was not in it with the two of the slayers, were the big events of the day. In the pursuit of the band who shot down the man who had accused members of the police with being in partnership with gamblers.

Mayor Gaynor Takes a Hand.

Other developments of interest and significance were not lacking, however. Mayor Gaynor took a personal hand in the investigation, sending for Lieutenant Becker, against whom Rosenthal's first specific charges were made, and three other policemen and being closeted for a long time in company with Police Commissioner Waldo. The outcome of the consultation was not made known, but the mayor took occasion to give out a letter he sent yesterday to the commissioner asking that Becker and the other officers be brought before him.

The mayor's letter expressed surprise that Becker should sit down to dinner with a man of Rosenthal's character. That he did, seems to be admitted, the mayor commented.

Whitman Answers Commissioner.

District Attorney Whitman had his say in a letter sent to Commissioner Waldo today, relating to the commissioner's request for an immediate and complete investigation of allegations of partnership between policemen and gamblers.

"When you asked this before," wrote Mr. Whitman, "Herman Rosenthal had made the charges, was alive, I had proceeded so far that he was to appear before the grand jury and file details and names of other gamblers to substantiate his charge. On the night preceding the date fixed, he was assassinated, evidently by men who feared his testimony, or their agents, on the principle that dead men tell no tales."

AGREE TO VOTE ON MAIN TARIFF BILLS NEXT WEEK

Democrats in Senate Abandon Their Filibuster After Gaining This Concession

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The senate reached an agreement late today to vote upon the three principal Democratic tariff and finance bills late next week. The measures will be taken as follows: Wool tariff, Thursday; excise bill, Friday; sugar tariff, Saturday.

One calendar day will be devoted to each measure; amendments will be permitted and a short debate allowed, and the final vote on each one will be taken before the day's adjournment.

The agreement came as the result of a Democratic filibuster which had for two days held up consideration of the big sundry civil appropriation bill, and which threatened to carry the session of congress beyond September 1. The Democrats abandoned their filibuster after the agreement was formally accepted by the senate. The result is expected to be a hastening of legislation in the senate and an adjournment of congress by August 10 or 15.

Encouraged by the decision of the senate to vote on the three measures named, the house may determine to act on the cotton tariff bill. If this measure is sent to the senate, it is believed an agreement will be secured to permit a vote on it as on the other bills.

The important subjects remaining to be considered are the tariff bills, the Panama canal bill, the appropriation measures and the Alaska civil government bill. Senators Jones threatened to defeat the tariff agreement today unless promised a vote on the Alaska civil government bill. The senate practically assured him that the measure would be considered before the summer adjournment. It is expected that the Panama canal bill will be disposed of in about two weeks.

The concessions made to the Democrats have cleared up practically all points of difference in the senate over tariff and allied measures. An attempt will now be made to hasten action on the sundry civil appropriation bill, which carries nearly $150,000,000 for the annual support of government bureaus.

GUNNISON COUNTY CAILLEMAN CELEBRATE

GUNNISON, July 18.—Hundreds of visitors today witnessed the opening of the annual celebration of the Gunnison County Caillemen's association. Miss Mirtle Carpenter, 16 years old of Sapinero, won the ladies' relay race on horseback. The most exciting event of the program, a parade was held in the morning. Bucking broncos, deer, horse races, baseball and other sports attracted crowds.

The famous La Tour pastel portrait of De J. Epinov, for which Baron de Rothschild paid $135,000 at the Drouot sale recently. His experts have pronounced it bogus, and the baron's refusal to accept the portrait has caused a big sensation in European artistic circles.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS ARE INSIDE PARTY; OUTSIDE MACHINE

STEWART'S POSITION

"Inside the party—outside the machine."

"The inside situation is exactly described in the above sentence. My fight is a fight for equal rights before the law, and equal laws, the smashing of the corporation machines, the elimination of bribers and grafters, the return to Republicans of their party and to the people a chance for constructive legislation compelling laws which favor no insiders.

"When my friends in a single county of the state are barred from a county convention for reasons which are pure buncombe, and at the orders from men in Denver who have bought and sold the party times without number, I decline to receive a vote from any delegate in a state assembly so made up. My friends can help this cause by supporting Republican candidates, local and state, who appear on the party ticket on September 10, placed there under properly signed petitions in accordance with the new primary law—and who are known to be honestly for this program.

"PHILIP B. STEWART."

NO NOMINATIONS AT COUNTY ASSEMBLY? A GOOD DEMAND FOR CONVENTION TICKETS

So far as the nomination of county candidates is concerned, the county assembly next Monday will be a white elephant on the hands of the central committee and the handful of Taft-placed Republicans, if the present situation continues. Alarmed at the manner in which candidates are shying at the assembly nomination, and the general trend toward nomination by petition at the September primaries, the machine leaders have about decided not to make any nominations at the assembly, but to have all candidates nominated by petition.

The intense indignation expressed all over the county as a result of the committee's "acid test," has made the candidates fight shy of the assembly nomination, many of them preferring to take their chances without the questionable honor of assembly ratification.

No definite statement has been made, but it is regarded as highly probable that the assembly will not handicap any candidates by nominating them.

WISCONSIN ELECTOR WILL IGNORE TAFT

After publication of Zander's statement, Colonel John Hicks, one of the Republican presidential electors, made a statement endorsing Zander's position.

STEFFINS PUT ON THE STAND

EMINENT WRITER TESTIFIES FOR DARROW

Give Minute Details of the McNamara Pleas of Guilty. Pohlman Cross Examined

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Lincoln Steffens, writer on government, politics and labor, and the man who was credited largely at the time with having brought about the conviction of the McNamara brothers, took the stand for the defense today in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow, and gave impressively and in minute detail, the history of the McNamara pleas of guilty.

The narration was plain and concise, and as the witness told of the little struggle to save John J. McNamara from the penitentiary, in order that organized labor might be spared what, in the minds of many, amounted to its own completion, the defendant made an attempt to hide his emotion.

Steffens story accentuated what appears now to be the crucial issue in the case. Whether the agreement to have the McNamara brothers plead guilty was sanctioned by Darrow more than a week previous to the alleged bribery of Juror Lockwood, as asserted by the defense, or whether, as contended by the prosecution, the negotiations virtually had lapsed because of the unwillingness of Darrow to allow John J. McNamara to plead guilty, as contended by the prosecution.

Prosecution's Probable Stand.

That this would be the stand of the prosecution, was indicated by District Attorney Fredericks, who declared that it would be shown that the negotiations were not brought to a climax until the bribery expose, which compelled Darrow, as chief counsel, to submit to the terms of prosecution that both McNamaras pleaded guilty. Steffens declared, without qualification, that Darrow and the McNamara brothers had consented to the plan before the arrest of Franklin, but that it had been decided to continue negotiations with the ultimate object of saving the elder brother, if possible. To this end, Attorney Leopold Davis was sent to the district attorney's office to keep the "bribe" by issuing an ultimatum that John J. McNamara had to plead guilty.

The witness gave his residence as Riverside, Conn., and his occupation as a reporter. He said he came to Los Angeles on November 10, 1911, and that the settlement of the McNamara case was first discussed at a meeting between E. W. Scripps, a newspaper proprietor, Mr. Darrow and himself, at the home of Mr. Scripps in San Diego, where they were guests. November 19. The next day he began to work on the proposition he said, first "laid" before Myer Lissner, Republican Progressive leader of southern California, a later member of a committee of representative business men.

Times Manager Enthusiastic.

Although much opposition was expected from the owners of the Los Angeles Times, Steffens said that Harry Chandler, the general manager, was enthusiastic, and subsequently became the intermediary between the business men's committee and the district attorney.

The original agreement was drafted in Mr. Lissner's office, November 20, and it was hoped that the district attorney would assent to it. It was added that James B. McNamara should plead guilty and accept such punishment as the court might direct, except hanging. To this, said the witness, the district attorney's office replied through Chandler, demanding that both men plead guilty, and that both make confessions.

Telegrams had been received from the National Erectors association and other business interests in the east, said Mr. Steffens, protesting against any settlement that did not provide for sending John J. McNamara to the penitentiary, as well as his brother.

On November 22, continued Steffens, "it seemed clear to Mr. Darrow that a settlement could be arrived at."

TALKS ON TWO PHASES OF MEETING

Roosevelt, in Outlook, Discusses Steam Roller and "Men Who Live Softly"

REFERS TO THE CONVENTION

Goos Into Details as to Methods Used to Create a Taft Majority

NEW YORK, July 18.—Two phases of the Republican national convention at a bureau are discussed by Theodore Roosevelt in editorial articles in the Outlook. The "Steam Roller" and "Men Who Live Softly" are the headings of the editorials. In the first, the writer answers charges that "steam roller" methods were used to nominate him in 1904, and again to secure nomination for Mr. Taft in 1908.

There was no contest over Mr. Taft's nomination in 1904, says this convention assembled, he says. Every delegate was for Taft, and this was true of both sides in every contest. In 1908, when Mr. Taft was fully nominated, there was no steam roller methods, as far as I know, and if anything dishonest or improper was done in the effort to nominate him, it was without my knowledge and if it had been brought to my attention and I had any power in the matter I would have interfered with it.

In the second article the editorial alludes to the "respectable men who with discomfort stood behind their leaders in securing the triumph of fraud and political theft at Chicago" and scores the "other respectable men who felt no discomfort in this supporting rascality, who, on the contrary, glorified in their actions."

"Some of the men responsible for the steam roller work in this convention," said Colonel Roosevelt, in his first editorial, "had enough to excuse themselves by saying that they were only doing what had always been done, and specifically what was done for me at the time of my nomination and what was done for Mr. Taft himself four years ago."

He said that he never used the steam roller in 1904, and that he was nominated for vice president against the wishes of the most powerful politicians who then had control of the Republican party, and finally because of a popular demand for his assistance in 1904. In 1904 the national committee contained a majority of the men who were hostile to me, and as in 1904, the leading politicians of the party would have liked to upset me. I never used the steam roller, but to the extent of a single appointment, to secure my nomination, I never appealed to a single politician. I made my appeal direct to the people, over the heads of the politicians, and stood squarely on my record, and I selected the nomination solely because the people had

MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS HAVE EVENTFUL TIME

Required 24 Hours to Go 100 Feet Up.

Mt. Tacoma—Nearly Die of Assaults by Mosquitoes.

TACOMA, Wash., July 18.—J. Jensen of Cedar Falls, Ia., and George Sunday of Fort Wayne, Ind., of Evangelist "Billy" Sunday, had an eventful experience while climbing Mount Tacoma yesterday. Sunday became very ill before reaching the top, which is 14,500 feet above sea level, but was revived and completed the climb. Jensen fell unconscious on the rim of the volcano's crater and did not regain his senses for several minutes.

E. A. Fredericks, W. N. Herbert and C. A. Glidden returned to Tacoma today, after climbing Mount Tacoma from the north side, a difficult and little used route. The men at one time found themselves at the bottom of a 1,000-foot canyon in climbing out of which it required 24 hours to make the first 100 feet. They found the ascent a very arduous task, and as they were very tired, they were very much surprised to find that the last 100 feet of the climb were without food.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The body of Nathan Swartz, whose father informed the police that his son was the slayer of the murdered little girl, was found early today on the north side of a tenement house on Christie street. Swartz had committed suicide by inhaling gas. The body was identified by Detective Joseph Brennan. A riotous report that the body of the murderer was found floating in the Hudson river proves to have been erroneous. Swartz had hired the room eight days ago under the name of Max Hirschevitz from Max Kaplan. Party today, Kaplan smelled gas. On investigation he found Swartz in bed with the end of a gas tube that ran from the ceiling of the ceiling tied to his mouth. Examination by a hospital physician showed the man was dead. Written in lead pencil on his collar were the words: "I am guilty and insane."

Over 200 gentlemen have been examined and another panel will be summoned this afternoon. Judge Parmelee today granted permission to the defense to enter the house where the murder was committed without the presence of the sheriff or other county officers.

ATTORNEY WILL TEST THE LEGALITY OF ANY MEASURE PRINTED UPON THE BALLOT

DENVER, July 18.—Attorney N. Walter Dixon late today notified Secretary of State Pearce that he will attack the legality of any measure proposed for submission to the people at the fall election that the secretary may have printed upon the ballot. It is his claim in behalf of himself and William H. Tate of Pueblo, that the amendment to the state constitution providing for the initiative and referendum was never properly submitted that it is not yet a part of the constitution and that it must be submitted to the people this fall for ratification. (The notification immediately followed the submission of an opinion by Attorney General Griffith to Secretary Pearce that he must put the measures proposed under the initiative and referendum on the ballot despite fraudulent signatures that may be attached to them. The attorney general holds that the secretary of state is performing a ministerial duty only in handling the measures that the people in voting are performing part of a legislative act and that the act is not finished until the vote is taken. Not until then he says, can the executive department take action.)

Nebraska Who Is Supporting Roosevelt Declares He Is Willing to Abide by Decision of People

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Representative Norris of Nebraska, progressive Republican and a Roosevelt supporter in a letter sent today to John L. He proposes that electors for both sides stand by the result. Mr. Norris made the proposal in reply to criticism in his state and published demands that he should get off the Republican ticket. "I am a believer in the recall," said Mr. Norris in his letter. "I am willing that it should be applied to me, and if since my nomination my course in refusing to recognize Mr. Taft as the Republican nominee is unsatisfactory to the Republicans who nominated me I am not only willing but I believe it is my duty to withdraw."

DENVER, July 18.—Governor Shafroth yesterday granted extradition papers to an officer from Caldwell, Idaho, to take Rudben McClaskey and his wife back to that state to answer a charge of deserting a month-old infant. The officer stated McClaskey and his wife left the baby at the home of a friend while they went to a show.

LESS DEMAND FOR HIGHER GRADES OF CONFECTION

CHICAGO, July 18.—Mildy's appetite is degenerating and growing smaller. To this fact are traced the financial difficulties of the Glacemo Allegretti company by its president. He asserted that she no longer demands a cream centered, hand-dipped confection but is satisfied with the inferior machine-made sweetmeats. Appreciating this fact, the dealer is handling the cheaper candy upon which he makes a larger profit.

10,000 POST CARDS GIVEN TO PUBLIC

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday gave away post cards to about 10,000 tourists and residents who applied for them during the 10 hours the cards were being distributed free in one of the store rooms on the ground floor of The Burns theater building. It is safe to say, according to those in charge of the novel advertising feature, that 95 per cent of the cards will be mailed to all parts of the country, bearing their postmark in the famous Pikes Peak region.

During the rest of the summer, post cards will be given away every Thursday until 100,000 have been dealt out, with about 10 different varieties. The cards elicited much favorable comment from tourists, yesterday, and hundreds of the cards were mailed at the post-office during the afternoon, proving that the Chamber of Commerce's scheme for advertising is meeting with the cooperation of the people.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM BY A SPECIALIST. That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is subjected, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. There are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavone de Composee, one-half dram Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour, it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. When this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

CAUTION—Do not apply where hair is not desired, and be sure to avoid scalp containing poisonous wood oil.

WHOLE LIFE IS TONED UP BY THE NEW "TONA VITA"

American People Are Being Wrecked by Overwork and Strain

TONIC BUILDS UP ENTIRE SYSTEM

Public Are Astonished at Rapid Action in Many Cases

The rush and hustle of American life is a constant strain on both mind and body. Gradually the human machine wears out under this unnatural strain and nervous debility results. Statistics show that half the people of the United States are in a run-down nervous condition.

A man or woman in this condition cannot get little happiness or success out of life. They feel tired all the time, have no energy for ambition and are gloomy, timid and despondent. They do not sleep well or eat well, and feel well and life instead of being a pleasure seems more like a burden.

Are you one of these half-sick, listless, nervous people? If you are, do you know that there is a tonic now being sold that has brought back the old energy and pleasure in life to thousands who have tried it? The name of the tonic is Tona Vita. It is being introduced in this country by a number of physicians. It has been pronounced the greatest medicine ever before sold to the public. In each city there is an agent for Tona Vita who will refund the purchase price if the tonic fails to give you complete and entire satisfaction.

Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your strength and vitality. You will be astonished how quickly it acts. The very first dose will convince you what a great medicine it is.

Leeds Rhubarb Laxative is used as an assistant to Tona Vita in cases of chronic constipation. It is a family medicine pleasant to the taste, containing the splendid laxative qualities of rhubarb. Ask your physician about rhubarb and see if he does not tell you it is the best possible laxative for children.

Robinson Drug Co. have the agency for these two great medicines in Colorado Springs.

W. F. OF M. PROMISES TO AID SUFFRAGETTES

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—Women present as fraternal delegates played an important part in the sessions today of the Western Federation of Miners annual convention at Victor.

Several suffragette leaders addressed the delegates and as a result a resolution to aid women's suffrage was passed.

In an address that drew much applause Mrs. J. L. Cannon of Arizona, declared that organized labor had done more to benefit humanity in the last 50 years than Christianity had done in 1,000 years.

A good part of the sessions was given to the discussion of the check-off system and the contract system. By a vote of 125 to 5 a motion was adopted to further these methods as far as possible. A contract entered into by the Butte, Mont., union with employers was ratified.

It is expected that the referendum vote for officers will be canvassed tomorrow and the convention adjourned.

IN FAVOR OF PLANS TO DIVERT CHERRY CREEK

DENVER, July 18.—After a trip of inspection over the territory through which the proposed diversion of Cherry creek will run, Mayor Henry J. Arnold and the members of his committee of engineers, expressed themselves as being in favor of the diversion plans.

By the plan, Cherry creek will be diverted at a point seven miles southeast of Denver and a cut made through to Sand creek.

MYSTERY ATTACHES TO DEATH OF CAMPER

LYONS, July 18.—A coroner's jury was unable today to determine whether the camper found dead in his wagon two days ago near the St. Vrain river was murdered or committed suicide. An undecisive verdict was returned.

Not only the fact that the man was shot twice, once in the head and once over the heart, but the facts that the stranger was seen with a younger companion, who has disappeared, and that an empty money sack was found near the wagon, convinced the sheriff that murder was committed.

ITCHING SKIN COMFORTED BY POSLAM

Take any case of eczema, acne, salt rheum, itch, scalp-lice, etc., however stubborn, and Poslam will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavone de Composee, one-half dram Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour, it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. When this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

CAUTION—Do not apply where hair is not desired, and be sure to avoid scalp containing poisonous wood oil.

WORLD'S TYPEWRITER SPEED RECORD BROKEN

Miss Florence Wilson of New York Makes Net Score of 6,879 Words an Hour or 115 Per Minute

SPokane, Wash., July 18.—The world's typewriter speed record for one hour's continuous writing on unfamiliar copy, was broken today by Miss Florence Wilson of New York, in the National contest held under the auspices of the National Commercial Teachers' federation.

Miss Wilson copied 7,219 words in the hour with 68 errors. Deducting five words for each error this gave her a net of 6,879, or an average of 115 words per minute. The former record, held by H. O. Haggitt of New York, was 6,442 words in 55 minutes.

The amateur championship for operators with less than three years' experience was won by Miss Rosalie Friedman of New York, who wrote 3,208 words in 30 minutes, or an average of 107 words. This also broke the former record held by Gus Trefzger of New York, of 28 words.

The school championship was won by Miss Winifred Bills of Spokane, with an average of 53 words per minute.

At a meeting this afternoon the National Commercial Teachers' association elected C. V. Kramley of Seattle, president; Miss Hazel Westermarck of Salt Lake City, vice-president; Miss Pearl Power of Chicago, secretary; and Miss E. M. Johnson of Elkhart, O., members of the executive committee.

The Private School Managers' association elected Morton MacCormac of Chicago, president; with A. Long, Portland, Ore., vice president, and P. A. Spangler of Pittsburgh, secretary and treasurer. The National Federation of Teachers' sessions here tonight with a banquet.

STEFFINS PUT ON STAND

(Continued From Page One.) which would save J. B. McNamara from the gallows. He sat down and wrote a telegram to Samuel Gompers, at Atlanta, Ga., where the American Federation of Labor was in convention, asking that one of two or three men whom he named, be sent here for a consultation.

Named Tveitmoos and Johannsen. Asked for the names given in the telegram, the witness said they were O. A. Tveitmoos, Anton Johannsen and Edward N. Nickels.

Steffens told of the conference with Fremont Older, in which the latter had professed concern as to who should be the "goat," and feared that Darrow would be "punished," as well as the witness injured professionally.

Darrow said he did not care about himself, that his duty was to his client, and to save his client's life, Steffens said.

Sunday, November 26, two days before Franklin's arrest for bribery, both the McNamara brothers had consented to plead guilty, although each did so without knowledge of the other. Steffens himself had gained the assent of John J. McNamara, and the brother had been seen by Judge McNair and Leconte Davis of counsel.

Preparing More Questions. Steffens' direct examination was halted by Chief Counsel Rogers, who asked for an early adjournment in order to prepare additional questions.

H. W. Pohman, business agent of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers union at Seattle, who was called to impeach the testimony of John J. Harrington, was given a brief cross-examination after the noon recess. District Attorney Fredericks asked if he was in Seattle when the Lyons building was blown up, August 10, 1910, and if he did not know that this explosion would figure in the McNamara trial; if E. A. Clancy was there at the same time, and if Clancy had not introduced to him James R. McNamara under the name of J. R. Bryce. Objections by the defense were sustained.

Corpse Weighed Down in Water With Nuggets

OROVILLE, Cal., July 18.—Pocketfuls of gold nuggets weighted the body of a man found near here today in a dredging pond, with his head crushed and his throat cut. Further search revealed a black burro, carrying a complete outfit, drowned in a nearby pit. The burro's head was crushed.

The police believe that the miner was murdered, a person having advance knowledge of his "clean-up."

DISAPPOINTED SUITOR TRIES TO KILL GIRL

DENVER, July 18.—Because she refused to marry him, Eugene Miller, a railroad stenographer, 23 years old, tonight shot Miss Georgia Lichtwalter, aged 18, four times. As the young woman arose after being wounded once, Miller, who had turned away, wheeled back towards her and fired again. He repeated the action twice and then fled. At a late hour tonight the police had not caught him. It is thought that Miss Lichtwalter will recover, as her wounds are not believed serious.

The young woman, who is a stenographer at the Y. M. C. A., consented to meet Miller for the last time tonight after she had refused to wed him. They were taking a walk from her home at 1826 South Washington when the shooting occurred.

DENVER PIONEER KILLED; WIDOW MAY NOT SURVIVE

DENVER, July 18.—John Lawler, aged 54, died tonight from injuries sustained today in a fall at a flood damaged building, and his aged wife is not expected to survive the shock of her husband's death. Lawler had lived in Denver for nearly 50 years in the same precinct. He was helping demolish the wrecked building when a board upon which he was standing broke.

The city of Westminster, Colo., has become the first incorporated municipality in the world.

MISUNDERSTOOD PHONE MESSAGE, RESPONSIBLE IN PART FOR FATAL WRECK

CHICAGO, July 18.—Mrs. Julia A. Wilcox, who was on duty in the signal tower at Western Springs, last Sunday, when a fatal wreck occurred on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, killing 10 persons and injuring more than a score of passengers, today testified before a committee of the house of representatives that a misunderstanding over a telephone message, in part, had been responsible for the wreck.

She said she received a telephone message from Chicago Park just prior to the accident. She understood the message to mean that a freight train had stopped at the Chicago Park station, and that the passenger train No. 1, which was approaching from the west, should stop there. She said that she then telephoned the signal tower, and that the signal was changed to stop.

Then Stopped Later Train.

Mrs. Wilcox then said she had been told that the freight train had stopped at the Chicago Park station, and that the passenger train No. 1, which was approaching from the west, should stop there. She said that she then telephoned the signal tower, and that the signal was changed to stop.

OPPOSING ARGUMENTS ON CANAL MANAGEMENT

Minnesota Man Introduces a Bill Aimed at British Owned Railway Steamships

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Railroad control of the Panama canal, the rights of American ships to free tolls and the form of government under which the canal management is to be placed, were subjects of directly opposing arguments today from Senators Brandegee of Connecticut, and Townsend of Michigan, during consideration of the canal bill in the senate.

Senator Brandegee urged the admission of all ships to the canal at a definite toll charge, with no favors to American vessels. If railroad-owned ships abused the privileges thus given placed the tolling lines under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission with power to deal with the situation.

Senator Townsend urged legislation to prevent railroads from getting any grip on the canal.

"Astute railroad managers know that the canal will do more to reduce tolls from coast to coast than all the orders of congress combined," declared the Michigan senator.

A blow is aimed at the British-owned railway steamships, which may ply the Panama canal in a bill which Representative Stepien of Minnesota introduced in the house today. The bill would provide that any vessel of foreign register, now owned or controlled in whole or in part by any railroad company engaged in any coastwise trade between American ports via the Panama canal should pay double the tolls charged for passage through the canal against other vessels in the coastwise trade.

Orozco's Guerilla Tactics in Force

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—Orozco's guerilla tactics are becoming operative in northern Durango, according to dispatches today from Gomez, Pablos, in the northwestern portion of the state. Rebels are reported to have occupied the towns of San Bernardo, Villa Guzman, Cieneguilla and Inde, in northern Durango, within a radius of 100 miles south of Parral, Chihuahua.

A band of 300 rebels also was reported at Jimalon, on the state line south of Torreon.

Activity also is reported among Zapatistas in Puebla, Morelos and eastern Guerrero. A passenger train was attacked yesterday near Chietla, Puebla, by a band of 200. A rattle of the escort was killed and several women passengers and the engineer wounded. Two forces of rurales are reported to have been surrounded and many of them killed or wounded.

REBELS HOLD CELEBRATION

JUAREZ, Mex., July 18.—With music, speaking and the firing of a huge quantity of blank ammunition, General Orozco's forces here celebrated today the anniversary of the death of Benito Juarez, the Mexican president of the reform period, 40 years ago. The principal address was made by the rebel governor, Felipe Gutierrez. The ceremony, held at the base of a statue of Juarez, was attended by General Orozco.

BURPEE STANDS PAT ON HIS TESTIMONY

Still Insists Judge Hanford Wanted to Sell Him Patent; Plummer on Stand

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—"I still say that Judge Hanford wanted to sell me a patent," testified Frank Burpee, a canning machinery man of Bellingham, Wash., when he was recalled to the stand today by the house judiciary committee, which is investigating the conduct of Judge Hanford.

Burpee had first testified last Tuesday. He was recalled, after an opportunity to freshen his memory. Witness fixed the date of his interview with the judge in his chambers relative to the invention as in April, 1908. Litigation over salmon canning machinery was then pending in Hanford's court, witness being defendant in a suit brought for alleged infringement of six patents. Witness had never talked with the judge directly about the patent, but Evan S. McCord, witness' attorney, broached the subject, and witness understood that McCord was acting for the judge. Witness offered in evidence a letter to him from McCord, dated April 13, 1908, which said in part:

"On Saturday Judge Hanford called me into his private office and showed me the plan for his proposed machine for can-topping. He is desirous of having a sample machine made as soon as possible, and says he would like to have you make it for him. He would like to have an interview with you next Sunday, along with myself."

Witness explained to McCord that he did not wish to buy Hanford's invention; that he had modified the Burpee machine so that it no longer infringed on his rival's machine, and that the rival patents had only a year to run and then anyone could use the disputed devices. At the interview with Hanford, witness testified, McCord told Judge Hanford the reasons why witness declined to buy the Hanford invention.

George H. Plummer of Tacoma, western land agent of the Northern Pacific railroad company, was on the stand nearly all the afternoon, reading the correspondence between Judge Hanford and officials of the Hanford Irrigation & Power Co. on one hand, and Northern Pacific Land officials, on the other, relative to the purchase by Hanford and his associates of railway lands in the vicinity of Priest Rapids. Mr. Plummer continued his testimony at the night session.

"I think it would be well for you to bring down a little drawing of your machine, so that you can show it to him in advance. I would like for the court to see your machine before he submits his plan to you. I think it is worth while for you to come down and see him in regard to this machine. Whether you make any agreement with him about it or not, I very much desire that you meet him next Sunday. Kindly let me know at once whether you can come down on that day. We will consider it a personal favor if you will do so."

Suffragettes Go to Extremes in Dublin. Try to Burn Theater

DUBLIN, July 18.—The arrival of the prime minister in Dublin tonight was characterized by such popular enthusiasm and also by disturbances on the part of the suffragettes. An attempt made by the suffragettes to hold a demonstration on the arrival of the prime minister's boat was frustrated by the authorities but during the progress of the party to the Hotel Gresham, a hatchet was thrown at his carriage.

Two women who occupied a box at the Dublin theater where Mr. Asquith will speak tomorrow, threw a blazing chair into the orchestra and set fire to the box curtains, causing a panic. One of the women escaped but the other, who gave the name of Gladys Evans, and said she came from England, was arrested. After this incident two English suffragettes handed in a statement at the office of the Irish Times in which they declared they had come to Ireland with a full sense of the responsibility of having accepted the challenge of the Rt. Hon. C. E. Hobhouse, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, by burning, not an English castle, but a Dublin theater.

REBELS ARREST AMERICAN WANTED IN THIS COUNTRY

EL PASO, Tex., July 18.—After having been released from the state penitentiary in the city of Chihuahua, and coming to Ciudad Juarez with the fleeing rebels, J. W. Smith, former secretary and treasurer of the Commercial Loan and Trust company of Atlanta, Ga., is under arrest in Juarez on a charge of having forged notes and other instruments in Atlanta, amounting to $100,000. He denies guilt of the crimes of which he is charged, and declares he will resist extradition to the utmost. He is now in charge of the rebel officers, and it is believed will be left in the Juarez jail when that city is evacuated.

Regulations Governing Entries Under 3-Year Homestead Law Issued

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Regulations governing entries under the Borch three-year homestead law were issued today by Secretary Fisher.

Credit for the three-year period must begin from actual residence. Proof must be submitted within five years. Cultivation for three years, counting from date of entry, is required, including actual cultivation of not less than one-sixteenth of the land, beginning with the second year, and not less than one-eighth, beginning with the third year and until final proof.

MUTINOUS SPIRIT OF REBELS IS REVEALED

Heavy Rains and Short Rations at Madera Leave Insurrectos in Surly Mood

MADERA, State of Chihuahua, Mexico, July 18.—Six rebels were killed, another fatally injured, and a half dozen others more or less seriously wounded in a brawl that almost provoked a mutiny today among the insurrecto troops gathered here.

Two men fought over a woman and one was killed. General Rojas had ordered the murderer executed, when friends of the condemned man intervened. Bullets flew for a few minutes until the arrival of General Luis Fernandez, who suppressed the trouble.

The incident served to reveal, however, the temper of the troops quartered here. The heavy rains have made camp life uncomfortable, rations are short and contemplated invasion of Sonora means many more hardships over had trails with few horses, all of which has created a mutinous spirit. The delay to the arrival of "cheche" Campos and his force of 800 men, who went south from here on a foraging expedition likewise is causing uneasiness. Reports from federal sources declare that Campos is about to take advantage of the government's offer of amnesty. This is deemed plausible because of the extensive business affairs of Campos in the state of Durango.

The Madera Lumber company, which thus far has issued no orders from General Antonio Rodas, $20,000 worth of supplies, did not open its store today. It may be kept closed until the rebels depart.

There are still nearly 1,600 rebel troops in Madera and they show no disposition to move away, though the federals are reported only a few days' ride from here.

BENCH WARRANT FOR CONTEMPT IS ISSUED AGAINST H. H. TAMMEN

DENVER, July 18.—A bench warrant for contempt of court was issued this afternoon by Judge Hubert L. Shattuck against Harry H. Tamm, one of the proprietors of the Post, an afternoon newspaper. Tamm is said to have taken an early night train for San Francisco. Under Sheriff John Kenny is reported in pursuit.

Tamm was charged with contempt by William G. Evans, president of the Denver City Tramway company. The action arose out of newspaper articles commenting upon a suit for criminal libel filed by Evans against Tamm and his partner, F. G. Bonifas. A countersuit for libel was filed by the newspaper proprietors against Evans and ex-Mayor Robert W. Speer as proprietors of another afternoon paper.

The action for contempt was taken upon a couple of days ago, when District Judge Shattuck appointed a commission of three lawyers to make recommendations. Today the attorneys informed the court that they could not serve, and Judge Shattuck appointed Deputy District Attorney John H. Chiles to act.

It is understood that it was upon Chiles' recommendation that the warrant was issued late today. Tonight Tamm is said to be on his way to San Francisco. It is not known what train Under Sheriff Kenny caught.

Judge Shattuck early this week postponed the libel suit against Tamm and Bonifas without stating any reason for so doing.

Details of Steam Roller.

Colonel Roosevelt goes into details as how, he says, steam roller methods were used to create a majority for Mr. Taft at the recent convention. He reviews the history of the primary campaign in the various states and contrasts his action in waiting technicalities in the Massachusetts primaries as against the action taken by the Taft managers on the delegates-at-large in the Ohio primaries.

"But Senator Burton and his fellow politicians by adroit manipulation equally discreditable to them and to Mr. Taft himself," the article goes on, "persuaded nine-tenths of the delegates from Cleveland to violate the expressed and overwhelming will of the people and to vote for Mr. Taft. It seems incredible that after this action Mr. Taft would still have made no sign as to the Massachusetts delegates-at-large. But such is the fact. He was not ashamed to accept without protest the delegates-at-large elected for me by a 9,000 majority, but given to him because he had received about 4,000 preference majority and yet at the same time to insist that his representatives by trickery and sharp practice, secure for him the six delegates-at-large from Ohio which in the primaries had gone 47,000 against him."

Contrasts Two Conventions.

Contrasting the two conventions, Colonel Roosevelt writes:

"There was one essential and instructive difference between the attitude of the big Republican political bosses at Chicago and the big Democratic political bosses at Baltimore. The former greatly preferred certain party defects to my nomination; the latter were willing to accept any nomination rather than face certain party defeat."

In my case, the appeal was made straight to the people against the bosses and the fight was won on that issue. The case at Baltimore was wholly different. In the primaries Mr. Clark had carried more states than Dr. Wilson. In but one or two states had Dr. Wilson's cause been triumphant in a square fight with the bosses—indeed but the explosion caused a great part

TO SPEND MILLION FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Word was received yesterday by W. H. Cundey, general agent for the Rio Grande in this city, that the railroad, through Vice President E. L. Brown, has authorized improvements to cost more than $1,000,000. These improvements will consist principally of the substitution of steel and concrete bridges for wooden structures; concrete arches instead of culverts, filling up of high trestles on branch lines, ballasting of the desert portion of the main line, between Westwater and Cisco, Utah; improving and making necessary grade rectifications between Riverside and Malta, on the second division in Colorado; construction of a number of new passing tracks in Colorado and Utah; installation of new track scales of latest design; erection of new and modern coal chutes at Alamosa and Grand Junction, Colo., and at Thistle Junction, Utah. The purchase of new shop tools for the various plants at Denver, Pueblo, Grand Junction, Salt Lake City and other division points for cheaper and better repairs, also is included in the order.

On account of the unusual length of the new Mallet engines recently ordered, turn tables 100 feet in diameter will be required, and they will be installed at Thistle Junction, Utah, and at Minturn, Colo.; the former point being located at the foot of Soldier Summit, and the latter on the west side of Tennessee Pass. These improvements will start at once, and will necessitate the employment of a great number of men for a period of at least 12 months.

It was recently announced that the Rio Grande will spend a total of about $6,000,000 for repairs, new track and equipment. The order placed earlier in the week for $1,100,000 for rolling stock, and the latest order which is given in full above, represents $2,100,000 of the amount set aside by the company.

NEGRO IS BADLY CUT IN QUARREL OVER 70 CENTS

In a quarrel over a 70-cent grocery bill S. L. Maters, colored, a Colorado Midland porter living on Grant avenue, Colorado City, was severely slashed with a razor wielded by George Kinsey, another negro, last night about 7 o'clock. The two principals and a witness, Henry Badney, were arrested by Officer Burton and Chief Tass and are held in the county jail for appearance in justice before a court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The probable charge against Kinsey will be assault with intent to kill.

Maters had just come in from his run on the Midland and stepped into Kinsey's house to see about a bill of 70 cents that he owed Kinsey for groceries. Kinsey drew a razor and attacked Maters it is claimed, cutting him badly on the right arm between the elbow and shoulder, severing an artery and several tendons. He also is alleged to have struck Maters repeatedly with his fist while slashing with the other hand.

The affray was stopped by neighbors and the police called. Maters' wounds were dressed and the two were taken to jail after a brief hearing in Justice Bryan's court in which Kinsey entered a plea of not guilty.

MOTHER KILLS INFANT

Miss Myrtle Faulk, aged 26 years, a domestic employed at 601 North Weber street, gave birth, unattended, to a boy in her room at about 7:30 o'clock last night, and fearful of the subsequent notoriety, strangled the babe with a handkerchief as soon as she recovered sufficient strength. She then put the body in a suit case, which she placed under her bed.

Her mistress, meanwhile, suspecting that something was wrong, telephoned Dr. P. H. Perkins, who arrived at the house about 8:30 o'clock. He discovered the girl's condition, and ordered that she be taken to a hospital at once. The physician found the suit case and opened it, and the mother confessed. She was taken in the ambulance to St. Francis hospital, and Police Chief Burns secured a nurse for her. The case was turned over to Assistant District Attorney Purcell, who will investigate fully today before taking action.

Miss Faulk came here last August from central Missouri. Shortly after, a young man with whom she was acquainted left that state for Colorado. He has lived in Denver and Pueblo, and Miss Faulk's mistress says that she has allowed her at times to go to Pueblo. His name is withheld by the police.

PLAN TO IMPROVE THE PROSPECT LAKE DISTRICT

That the city spent $9,000,000 in four consecutive years in improving the Prospect Lake district into a first-class city park is the substance of a plan that will be proposed by Mayor Avery at a conference of the park commission and city council.

The plan shows the improvement of the park on the east side and calls for the proposed improvement of the park. The Prospect Lake district is an ideal place for a park, and the city has the opportunity to improve it. The district is situated on the east side of the city, and is bounded by the city limits on the north, south and west. ## TESTS FAVOR CEMENT PIPE AS AGAINST CLAY

Glazed cement pipe and vitrified clay pipe were put through a rigid comparison test at a mechanical laboratory at Colorado Springs yesterday morning under the supervision of Dr. George F. Martin. The local product glazed cement pipe was found to be stronger in the tests of strength and tensile pressure. The tests were given in the presence of about 50 deeply interested men, including city officials, and the manufacturers and experts from all over the state.

In the compression test, a six-inch concrete pipe 67 days old made by the Colorado Portland Cement Manufacturing company of Colorado Springs stood a pressure of 1,500 pounds a square foot before crushing. The six-inch clay pipe made at Pueblo stood 1,150 pounds a square foot before being crushed. On the tensile pressure tests the same size and kind of concrete pipe did not break at 74 pounds pressure—all the alleged appliers were capable of providing while the six-inch clay pipe broke at 10 pounds pressure.

On the drop test, a concrete pipe 67 days old was used and an 115-pound iron ball was dropped from heights of six, 12 and 18 inches. The concrete pipe stood the test 65 per cent better than the clay pipe.

Many witnesses among the following: Mayor J. D. Donnelly, commissioners Perry and Donnelly, Burton, V. S. Haskins, assistant city engineer, Frank H. Haskins, assistant manager of the Standard Fire Brick company and Thomas McHugh, all of Pueblo; Whitney Newton, president of the Colorado Portland Cement company; J. A. Deffen, manager of the Denver Sewer Pipe and Clay company; John F. Zahn, secretary of the United States Portland Cement company; all of Denver; M. A. Avery and commissioners Whitaker, Himebaugh and Frost; R. A. Billas, superintendent of street works; W. W. Haskins, vice president of the Colorado Portland Cement company; Fortuna, Colo. and W. A. Curless, concrete expert from Seattle.

Pueblo expects to let a large contract for storm sewer pipes in the near future.

D. F. Richards, D. D. of Scranton, Pa., will deliver a lecture in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, corner of Bijou and Nevada on Monday, July 23, at 8 p. m. Subject, D. LLOYD GEORGE, Admission 25c.

DAMAGE CASE TO JURY

The case of Miss Nellie B. Engle against the Colorado Springs & Northern Railway company for $40,000 damages went to the jury in the district court late yesterday afternoon and a sealed verdict will be returned if an agreement is reached before morning.

The plaintiff Wednesday introduced George L. Brown as an expert witness to show that the car could have been stopped in time to prevent the accident. Brown, who was formerly employed as a motorman by the railway company, testified that he could stop one of the sprinklers in a space of 12 inches when it was going three miles an hour, or in six to eight feet when it was going seven miles an hour.

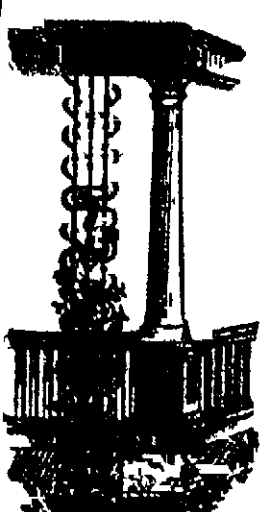

Judge Owen appointed a commission to oversee the experiment when the plaintiff asked leave for Brown to make the test. The commission, consisting of J. D. Sullivan of the Rock Island railroad and Engineers O'Connor and Squire of the Short Line, reported that Brown, running the same sprinkler that ran over Miss Engle, cutting off her leg, made two tests running three miles an hour. In the first he stopped the car in four and one-half feet and in the second in six and one-half feet. It required 25 feet to stop when running seven miles an hour. The tests were made at the corner of Pikes Peak and Tejon, the scene of the accident.

The secretary is ready now to get your entries, either for the doll, flower or baby show.

Better be getting busy with those flowers and get a schedule of prizes.

Very few hairpins are made in France most of the supply coming from England and Germany.

Paying for Their Care

Mrs. Madeline F. Johnson of 240 North Franklin street yesterday refused to give up her grandchildren, Clare and Evelyn Robinson, aged 1 and 3 years respectively, to their step-mother Mrs. George F. Robinson who had come from Eugene, Wash. to take the children back to their father, the grandmother, claiming that she has a right to the custody of the little ones until their father pays $200 for their care.

Mrs. Robinson appealed to Assistant District Attorney Purcell after investigating the case, told Mrs. Johnson's trip to this city was a stall framed up by Robinson, who more than a year ago deserted his children, and now makes pretense of demanding them to keep a nonsupport charge from being filed against him by the children's grandmother. Purcell is more convinced of this than ever since the woman was in such a hurry to have the matter settled yesterday and left last night for Washington.

On the death of their mother about a year ago, the children were given to Mrs. Johnson by Robinson, who was unable to care for them. Robinson married his present wife according to the story told by her yesterday, on July 14 and they decided that they wanted the children.

Early was discovered the impossibility of securing uniformity and high quality in coffee unless we manufactured it.

We therefore started to manufacture. Now we turn out coffee from the finest of coffee beans. It is handled through a system of air and dust tight tubes and bins direct to the roaster. We know that it is uniformly of the same high quality.

For finest flavor, use Berns freshly roasted coffee.

MANY AUTOS BLAKE. Many more automobiles are in the city than were here last year at the same time. According to City Clerk Chapman, five registration cards are good for three days and four licenses each for 30 days were issued by Chapman in one hour yesterday morning, breaking records for automobile registration.

WEDDING. Miss Margaret Walters and Frank Belmont Collins were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. W. Hest, 14 South Eighth street, by the Rev. H. Franklin Hall of the First M. E. church. After August 1, Mr. and Mrs. Collins will be at home at 1065 Colorado avenue.

GETTING RUSTY. The postoffice is getting rusty in the annual summer season as evidenced by the delay in mailing the tourist cards. The delay so far has been as good as last year and probably will close a little ahead of the 1911 mark. The cards are a good barometer of the tourist arrivals, and state that from a 1 appearance the tourists are here in larger numbers.

PREDICTS BUSY SEASON

C. H. Speck, of Denver, general passenger agent of the Chicago & Midland, was here yesterday in business. He is sure the tourist travel from this town on will be fully up to the average of what has been expected. He says there is no denying the fact that travel is being lighted so far this summer, but he is elated with what he has seen on a recent trip, through the east, and is confident that the Springs will be visited by a large number of tourists who will stay later than usual.

Cast of Characters:

Guggie, political magnate and owner of Colorado.

Angel Archie, a political confidence man.

McDonald, clerk to Archie.

Tommy D., an errand boy.

Messengers, attorneys, editors, county central committees and corporations.

ACT I.

(Angel Archie's room, the political headquarters; at left, A. A. seated at a flat-top desk; at right, McD. standing, busily writing at high desk; oil paintings of Guggie, Boss Barnes, Lorimer and Penrose; cheap lithograph of W. H. T. and J. S. S. tacked on wall.)

Angel Archie (to McD.). Have you sent out orders to the county central committee to require the acid test?

McDonald. (This done, my lord).

A. A. Good. Have any of them reported their action in accordance with our established system?

McD. Yes, my lord. The committees of Weld, Morgan and El Paso have voted as we directed. All is well.

(Disturbance outside, banging of doors, sound of running feet and Tommy D. in messenger's costume rushes in very much excited.)

Tommy D. (saluting A. A. and holding out message). An important message from Frankie Schreiber of El Paso, my lord.

A. A. (opens message and reads aloud). Action taken as directed on Monday. Republican voters rebel against acid test and refuse to enter assembly. Situation critical. I await orders.

FRANK SCHREIBER.

McD. Sounds, my lord. The seconds refuse to promise to vote for our master (making obeisance before lithograph of W. H. T.).

A. A. Master! Nothing, you simpleton! I am master!

(Tommy D. starts and looks with reverent eyes at oil painting of Guggie.)

A. A. (noticing Tommy D.). That is, so long as his most worshipful and generous Highness (indicating portrait of Guggie) so wills it. What do we care for W. H. T. and J. S. S.?

Tommy D. Nothing, my lord.

A. A. Quite right. You are a good boy. Tommy (putting Tommy's head). You deserve the good will and thanks of every Republican of Colorado.

(Exit Tommy.)

McD. But what shall we do? The Republican voters of El Paso have voted before the assembly.

A. A. Do not be excited, my good man. They must be a mistake. In the past there have been threats, but never a bolt. They have always come around. No one but an insane man would oppose our chief (putting his hand on his chest and bowing toward Guggie), and me.

Tommy D. (entering excitedly). My Lord, a telegram.

A. A. (opening and reading). The Progressive Republicans of this town will halt at nothing. They believe themselves to be the evangelists of a new regime. They do not respect our authority. They are the nuttiest of the nutti.

A. A., McD. and T. D. (in chorus). They do not fear us! This is terrible! All is lost!

JAIL SENTENCE VERSUS FINES FOR SPEEDERS

It is unusual for a day to pass without the report of an injury to a pedestrian by a speeding automobile or motorcycle. Sometimes the occupants of the car or the ones on the motorcycle are also injured, but the other party to the collision almost invariably suffers more seriously.

Yesterday the coroner's jury came to the following verdict:

The killing of the said John M. Lord might have been avoided had E. A. Beecher been driving the car within the speed limits fixed by the ordinances of the city of Colorado Springs.

Tuesday evening another accident was reported:

Another automobile accident occurred at 9 o'clock last night, when a car struck Maria W. Blackmer, 505 South Cascade avenue, a street car motorman. In the back, severely bruising him about the body. The driver of the auto said he did not see Blackmer step from the car until it was too late to stop. Blackmer had just stepped from the platform of his car, which was on the curve at Tejon and Huerfano when he was struck.

The Sunday paper contained this statement:

Mrs. Hannah Johnson, a tourist from Wauwagan, Neb., was run down and seriously injured by a motorcycle last night at 8 o'clock, at the corner of Kiowa and Tejon streets, and severely injured. She was taken to her home at 127 East Bluff, where her injuries were found to consist of a dislocated hip and severe bruises on her legs and side.

On Friday the daily grist was as follows:

Harry Robeson, aged 17, 10 East Bijou street, is seriously injured, and Harold Draper, aged 18, 320 South Nevada avenue, and Mrs. Maurice G. Wilford of the Star ranch are badly cut and bruised as a result of a collision late last night in the 1500 block on South Nevada avenue, between a motorcycle ridden by the two boys and a buggy driven by Mrs. Wilford.

The boys were riding at a high rate of speed and did not see the approaching buggy until too late to avoid a collision.

In less than a week one man was killed, another "seriously bruised," a woman and a boy "seriously injured," and another woman and boy "badly cut and bruised" six in all, with, probably, other injuries not reported.

The Gazette does not presume to try these cases out of court and fix the blame. However, it is evident that some of the accidents were due to overspeeding. It is a matter of common knowledge that automobiles and motorcycles rush up and down most any of our streets and avenues daily at a speed of from 25 to 40 miles an hour.

Fines have been tried and proven ineffective. They do not stop speeding. A speed-crazed driver is willing to risk breaking the speed ordinance on the double chance of not getting caught or of being fined but a few dollars if he is caught. A jail sentence would be much more effective in keeping the speed of machines under the established limit.

A tourist going through town recently asked, "Is there no speed limit in this city?" When told that there was a speed limit and that a money penalty was required of violators, when caught, he remarked that he knew of a much better way of enforcing the speed ordinance "let it be known that overspeeding will be punished by a jail sentence."

In a certain Eastern city overspeeding had been common, and fines ineffective. The judge announced that the next offense would be punished by a jail sentence; if an offender came into the court a second time and found guilty he would be sent to the rock pile; further violations by the same offender would be punished by longer sentences. After the announcement there was one violation—the man guilty was sent to jail. Since then the city has not suffered from speed-fines.

A jail sentence as a penalty is suggested as an effective method of reducing or eliminating overspeeding and the inevitable accidents resulting therefrom.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

WHY THE FARMERS ARE TURNING TO SOCIALISM.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The condition of many of our farmers in eastern Colorado is pitiable indeed. Most of them are educated, progressive men and women. A recent trip through the eastern part of El Paso and western Elbert counties was very instructive regarding the plucking effects of the capitalist system upon the farming industry, as well as upon all business not controlled by the trusts or large capital. Many of these homesteaders came from Kansas, Iowa and other eastern states where they were engaged in a variety of business enterprises. A large number brought with them goodly sums of money, the savings of years of toil. These savings were largely invested in stock, farming, buildings and farm machinery.

The broad acres of beautiful level land stretching as far as the eye could see, these happy pioneers' promise of wealth and prosperity as soon as they could apply their intelligent labor to the soil that had for past ages fattened the countless herds of buffalo and antelope that roamed these plains. Many hoped, struggling valiantly, year after year against repeated failures of crops, buoyed up by the business interests, prophesying each year that this was the last of the dry years, they toiled on, hoping to reach the end of their five years of suffering and privation when they could prove up, get title and borrow money by mortgaging their homes or pass on to mining or factory towns, hoping there to earn a little more money to supply their families with bread. I met men who had lost the last cow and horse by foreclosure of mortgages they had given to buy feed for these same animals. I met others who had mortgaged their last possible animal and machinery, took the pittance of money received to the market town, bought feed, hauled it home, only to find it so rotten that their stock would eat but little of it. The natural result, is or was two months ago, that many of the horses were so emaciated by starvation that they could only work half a day at a time. Many have died; one farmer lost 13 head of cattle two weeks to endure the last storm. Many families have been separated in order to live while holding down the claim. In one case a wife working in St. Paul, in another in Colorado Springs; a son in one case, had to work to help put in crop, was forced to go to a city and find furnace to earn a little money. An ex-miner working 18 hours a day all alone, the wife working elsewhere to help keep a daughter in high school, and a son working his way through college. Many of these people came to this and adjacent counties through the glowing land prospecting sent out by land sharks, railroads and mining brokers, whose only object was to gather a few crumbs of profit by picking the tenderfoots poockets. As the anguished walls of these producers went out to the world, what answer did they receive to their appeals for help? The answer that Shylock gave his debtor: "Not one penny except it be secured beyond all danger of loss, at a high rate of interest." At the same time their government was spending three to four hundred millions of dollars in building a canal that will never add one dollar to the income of one wealth producer, building it solely in the interest of commercial pirates and to expedite the more speedy handling of the machinery of war.

The farmers are awaking to their dependent position very rapidly. Instead of being, as he has been told, "the independent, horny-handed son of toil," he is twin brother to the wage slave of the factory and mine. He helps to produce the wealth of the world and the capitalists or exploiting parasites permit him to retain just enough to keep him from actual starvation until they can rob him of his entire holdings. The gamblers of the grain pits, cattle exchanges, stock markets and loan sharks set the prices he gets for his produce, while the factory owner robs him, on the machinery he must have and the railroads and banks take most of what remains, and if he is silly enough to seek redress in the courts, they, with the lawyers, take what is left and leave him a helpless pauper.

How long they will submit to this cruel robbery may be estimated by the facilities provided for their enlightenment by the Socialist party and press.

The Short Ballot Movement

By H. S. GILBERTSON

V.—The Ohio Convention and the Short Ballot Ballot in California

Ohio, at present, has an enormous ballot, running up to 48 offices in the cities. In Cincinnati at the last election, the ballot was cut into seven parts, making the voter spend most of his voting time in unfolding and refolding the handful of papers. That this was corrupt it did not need the revelations of bribery in the legislature to demonstrate. Politics was for experts only, in Ohio. The rank and file of the people could not possibly wield such clumsy tools effectively, nor was it intended that they should. The constitutional convention of this year gave hope to the progressives and they went vigorously to work for shorter and more popular ballots.

The Cleveland Municipal Association took the lead. This association had been working to improve elective conditions in Ohio for 15 years, but with indifferent results. As the constitutional convention drew near, it formed a strong short ballot committee which drafted a proposal for a complete short ballot plan of government and submitted it to the convention.

The general tone of the Ohio short ballot program was conservative. The state ticket would have been cut down to the governor and members of the legislature. The judges would remain elective. The cities and counties would be allowed to work out their own destinies by means of a system of home rule.

When the constitutional convention met and organized it created, among its permanent committees, one on the short ballot, to digest the various proposals submitted to it and bring out a plan for action by the convention. This official committee reported in favor of a plan by which the governor, lieutenant governor and state auditor should be the only officials elected by the voters of the whole state.

On the debate over this proposition, appeared the first real opposition to the short ballot principle, or more properly speaking, to the application of this principle. Up to this time it had been supposed that the measure would go through the convention with practically no opposition.

The nature of the objections raised in the convention are instructive in the highest degree. There appeared to be a notion that the short ballot was opening to the governor the opportunity for the exercise of autocratic, irresponsible powers. Many of the initiative and referendum faction in the convention felt that it was inconsistent with the principle of the initiative to elaborate the work of the people on the one hand and simplify it on the other—quite the reverse point of view from that of the original Oregon progressives who are using the initiative for the specific purpose of getting the short ballot.

None of this opposition can fairly be said to have been malicious or destructive. It was based entirely upon a hand-me-down theory of popular government which has proven itself to have little vitality when attacked in the light of sober common sense or experience.

Opposition of quite another character was personified in the men who buttonholed the delegates and urged that this or that particular office, for which they had it in mind to run, might be continued on the elective list. Such opposition was doubtless well founded.

In the end the proposals were tabled, but the Ohio convention had at least served as an interesting short ballot arena in which were fought out the various points of view which the movement must meet as it progresses across the country.

Abusing Privileges

By RUTH CAMERON.

There is a certain class of people in this world who are regularly guilty of abusing privileges. Sometimes their conduct results in the privileges being withdrawn—and withdrawn, unfortunately, not only from them, but also from those who used their privileged rights; sometimes it merely causes infinite trouble and difficulty to someone.

One of the department stores in our home city has always been remarkable for the courtesy which it has shown in the matter of exchanges. Anything within reason—and sometimes more than that—this firm would do. Recently I heard someone say, "So-and-so & Co. are not so good about exchanging things as they used to be." If that statement is true, there is good reason for the change. For, again and again, I have known of the courtesy of that firm being abused. I know one woman who bought a green silk lamp shade, used it six months, and then actually exchanged it for the privileges of exchange are curtailed by So-and-so & Co. I think the woman who took back that green lamp shade will be partly to blame.

As I waited for my white gloves at the glove cleaning counter the other day, I heard one clerk say wearily to another, "I've just had two more lost checks reported. Seems as if there wasn't anything but lost checks lately. If those slips meant as much trouble to them as it does to us, there wouldn't be so much carelessness. I can tell you." There was an other case of abused privileges. This time it did not result in the privilege being taken away, because that would be practically impossible. It simply meant infinite trouble for someone.

Again, many stores are very liberal in their delivery privileges. At some shops in the department stores, even the least expensive purchase may be sent free of charge. But there is such a thing as using this privilege reasonably and stopping there. To be sure, you have a right to send even a little parcel which you could easily slip into your handbag, but the idea of the system is merely to relieve the customer of cumbersome packages, and when you oblige the expressman to make a special trip to your house to bring a toothbrush or three pairs of stockings, you are grossly abusing your privilege.

There is reason in all things. Just because the shop grants you these privileges as a matter of business, does not justify you in abusing them. Decent people have some sense of honor and decency in business dealings, as well as personal relations. Besides, there is a human element in everything. You have an idea that it is only the firm which suffers when you abuse one of its privileges. Nine times out of ten some individual is also affected. Witness the incident of the white gloves.

SHORT CUTS TO ENGLISH

Textbooks for Italian Newcomers

Make Entertaining Reading

From the New York Sun.

English "as she is taught" to the Italian newcomer who lacks time or inclination to attend night school is a language fearfully and wonderfully made.

In all the many Italian quarters of Greater New York books purporting to give the stranger a working knowledge of English in from 20 to 40 easy lessons are sold on every bookstand.

What professes to be a complete English-English grammar does pretty well in the mere formalities of declension and conjugation, but when it comes to conversational phrases, the author's notions of English idiom are displayed in a fashion to make entertaining reading.

In a list of familiar phrases occur such gems as this: "Do you want them shine ironed?" an inquiry at the laundry touching the treatment of collars.

Another of these handbooks affords not only a grammar, a manual of polite conversation and a vocabulary of various trades and arts, but also epistolary models for all occasions and excerpts from the naturalization laws of the United States. The work lays special stress upon pronunciation, but the author owns with engaging frankness that he has never been able to master the difficult "th" sounds of English.

Accordingly he always indicates "the" as pronounced "di," in which form the Italian "it" has the force of "the." Likewise "him" is indicated as "him," "her" as "er," "whom" as "um," "whose" as "us." In the same way the "it" is dropped from "hate, horse and hear." "The man who drinks" becomes "di manu drinks." "The child whose hair is dark" is to be enunciated as "di claid off er is dark."

Advice as to answering questions upon application for naturalization is perhaps responsible for the rejection of some applicants. The expectant citizen is told to say that United States senators are elected "from the legislature." The inquiry as to the number of representatives in congress is to be answered by "That depends from the population—one every 30,000 inhabitants."

Punctuation in some of the Italian-English grammars there is little or none, and syllabification is like Chinese carrying it utterly disregards the natural articulations. Spelling is pretty good in the case of long words, but the authors are blind to many orthographic pitfalls.

SOME ODD EFFECTS OF LIGHTNING

From the Kansas City Journal.

There is not as much danger from buildings being struck by lightning as most people suppose. Last year, 1,888 buildings were struck by lightning and the greater number were not damaged.

Of these buildings 354 had wooden roofs, 34 were metal, 33 were slate and 846 were not described.

Of this whole number only 48 were rodded, 355 were not, and 952 were not reported.

In the 10 years, 1893 to 1903, German investigators found—that of all buildings struck 9 per cent of those having hard roofs and 63 per cent of those having soft roofs were not set on fire.

Older writers say that risks of buildings being struck by lightning is five times greater in the country than in the city. Electricity is present in the earth's atmosphere at all times. The amount in the atmosphere varies from time to time, but becomes large during so-called magnetic storms. These storms are usually accompanied by auroral displays and are often coincident with sun-spots.

It has been found that there is an excess of negative electricity in the surface of the earth and an excess of positive electricity in the atmosphere.

As like electricity repels, and unlike electricity attracts, it follows that there is a constant interchange of movement between the positive electricity in the air toward the earth and the negative electricity in the earth toward and into the atmosphere.

At times this is so marked that there is a visible discharge from objects extending into atmosphere, like masts on vessels, or from the bodies of persons standing on mountain tops, just as there is sometimes between the finger and a rapidly moving belt.

This brush-like discharge is called "St. Elmo's fire." One man went out on the summit of Pikes Peak with a raised umbrella during a magnetic storm and when he came in said it was raining lead.

Thunderstorms will be generated wherever there is a rapid rising current of very moist air. Why and how we do not know. We do know, however, that moisture is condensed from water vapor upon minute particles of dust and upon electric ions. We know also that each drop of water, large or ever so minute, has a coating of electricity upon its surface.

Whenever the stress of electricity in the air, due to the electrification of the cloud mass passes the breaking limit, the air gives way. It is cracked in much the same way as a piece of glass as the last fragments are hurled.

It is held by most scientists that sometimes at least the lightning flash is an oscillatory discharge, and that the electricity passes both up and down.

The distance of a flash is approximately as many miles as one-fifth the number of seconds between the flash and the thunder.

IN THE ARMY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

July 19, 1882.

An interesting musical and social entertainment was given at the Presbyterian church.

A fight between a black bear and a Texas bull was being arranged at Leadville.

Communication between this city and the signal station on the summit of Pikes Peak was being carried on by means of the heliograph.

Sweet & Weir declined to pay the excessive insurance rates demanded for their new building, the Oriel block, and were running pipes and installing hose connections throughout the building, as a protection against fire.

Work on the roof of the High school building was progressing rapidly.

Professor Inisling of the School of Mines gave a lecture on "Color Blindness" in the college chapel.

L. T. Fisher, John Peyton, and Schuyler Bronson were developing mining claim on Cheyenne mountain. Their camp fire could be plainly seen from the city in the evening.

THE HASKIN LETTER

AMERICA'S GREAT ENDOWMENTS

X THE CARNEGIE CORPORATION

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Mr. Carnegie has created the recently endowed Carnegie corporation, in his words, for the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States, by aiding technical schools, institutions of higher learning, libraries, scientific research, and by such other agencies and means as shall from time to time be found to deserve such help. It now has a fund of $25,000,000, and it is intended that the corporation shall take over the business of founding and aiding libraries and educational institutions which has been carried on by Mr. Carnegie as an individual.

What the ultimate size of the fund of the Carnegie corporation will be no one can forecast, and it is doubtful if even Mr. Carnegie himself knows exactly how much money he has. A recent rumor has it that he intends that ultimately it will get the bulk of his property, and will manage the vast millions of his fortune after his death. In other words, Mr. Carnegie wants to put his property in such shape that generations after he is dead and gone, good and wise men may make it for the benefit of mankind along the lines of the peculiar needs of their respective generations. If he made a will giving it for specific purposes, or disposed of it for specific purposes before his death, the needs that now seem most urgent and the causes most worthy might be met, while needs unrecognized today might be forgotten. Therefore, he has decided to establish a board of trustees and trust to the wisdom of each generation to use the fund to meet its peculiar needs.

The Carnegie corporation differs from any other Carnegie endowment in that Mr. Carnegie himself is a member of the board of trustees. In all of his other endowments he has selected other men to act as managers of the respective foundations; and left matters entirely in their disposal, within the limits of the terms of the endowments. But he retains a place in the management of the affairs of the Carnegie corporation. Here again he gives some evidence of what he purposes to do through the corporation. He expects to remain its directing head as long as he lives; in other words, he intends that there shall be a gradual merging of Carnegie the individual into Carnegie the corporation, and as the activities of the individual wane those of the corporation will increase. He wants the work of establishing libraries, promoting church music, and a hundred kindred activities to continue through as many generations to come as is possible, and he has chosen the Carnegie corporation as the instrument by which these things shall be done.

If his present purpose is carried out, the Carnegie corporation will be the master-philanthropy of all his beneficent work. It will stand behind the numerous foundations and institutions he has established, and when any one of them has a particularly important work to do for which its ordinary income does not suffice, the Carnegie corporation will do what Mr. Carnegie himself now so frequently does. For instance, when he found that a great many worthy teachers were denied pensions under his foundation for the advancement of teaching, because they were not connected with standard institutions, he immediately came to their rescue, with an addition to the original gift, so that provision could be made for them. Likewise, when he found that the work of the Carnegie Institution of Washington need an extra $2,000,000 endowment, it soon was forthcoming, and when he found that it could advantageously spend the income of an additional $10,000,000, that amount also was quickly given.

Must Outright Giver of All.

A member of one of the big foundations, established by Mr. Carnegie, talked interestingly recently upon the character of the gifts of Mr. Carnegie. He said that the little Secret is the most outright giver he ever knew; that he does not even pretend to exercise the least influence over the trustee of a foundation after it is established. In giving he considers only two things: the worthiness of the cause and the selection of the men who will administer the gift. He neither attempts to lay out a program nor to plan the activities of a foundation; the terms of the charters are always broad, and yet they are the only limit or restriction he puts on his trustees. For instance, becoming convinced that $10,000,000 an endowment for a crusade in behalf of international peace would go far toward the abolition of war, Mr. Carnegie simply picked his men and left entirely to them the working out of the details of the crusade.

While George Eastman was the first American to give a large fund to philanthropy, a fund which has proved the path-blazing gift of America, Mr. Carnegie's gift of America, however, remained for Andrew Carnegie to begin a system of philanthropy which has for its end the giving of hundreds of millions of dollars to the cause of humanity. He and John D. Rockefeller are the world's greatest givers, and it remains for the future to tell which of them will go down in history as having been the more lavish donor of the two. Down to date the proposed $100,000,000 Rockefeller foundation is taken into the reckoning. Mr. Rockefeller probably has the advantage. On the other hand the Carnegie corporation is to get what authoritative rumor declares will be the honors will be with Mr. Carnegie.

Gifts Cover a Wide Range.

The gifts of Mr. Carnegie have covered a very wide range. One of the most interesting of all his philanthropies, though little heard of, is that he has given money toward the purchase of thousands of church organs in America and Europe. He has no established "hero funds" in the United States and England, but in countries of continental Europe, as was in most of his giving. Mr. Carnegie has made his gifts outright, while Mr. Rockefeller usually makes his contingent upon the raising of additional funds. Some of the dispersers of these philanthropies differ widely as to the relative merits of the two systems of giving. There are those who think that Rockefeller gifts entail undue hardship on the schools—for instance, which receive them. On the other hand, the view of those who look at the question from the Rockefeller viewpoint is that the most valuable part of a gift is the spirit of self help it develops, and that this cannot be realized in the fullest in an outright, unconditional gift. I will be seen that even in such a case work as the dispensing of money for the benefit of humanity, there is a honest difference of opinion as to how to make it accomplish its best result.

There is one notable difference in the plan of the Carnegie corporation and the giving of the founder himself. To day his gifts go to the ends of the earth. He has aided humanitarian work on every continent. His libraries stand as monuments to the world-city character of his philanthropy. But in the Carnegie corporation, while it is to succeed him as an individual, its efforts are to be confined to the promotion of the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States. It is probable that he feels that his duty toward other peoples has been discharged, and that the remainder of his gifts ought to be for the benefit of the people of the nation through which his prosperity came.

Organized Under Charter Last Year.

Reckoning from the date of its incorporation the Carnegie corporation now is a little more than a year old; a charter having been granted by the legislature of New York on June 1, 1911. The organization under its charter took place November 16 of last year. Mr. Carnegie himself is president of the corporation, with Elhan Root a vice president, James Bertram, confidential secretary to Mr. Carnegie, and the secretary of the corporation.

TEXANS TO MEET

A meeting of all Texans, both resident and visiting, in the Pikes Peak building, at 11 a. m., for the purpose of organizing the Texas club, electing officers, appointing committees and arranging program for "Texas day," which will be held in Manitou park, Monday, August 12, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

It is probable that an effort will be made to have the corporation incorporated under the laws of Colorado, and that a special federal charter, if it has been found by many similar organizations that the laws of no state and while the act under which they would be made corporations in the district of Columbia is wholly unsuited to their needs. It is an act framed principally to meet the needs of educational institutions located in the district of Columbia, and contains a clause which requires that a majority of the trustees shall reside in the district of Columbia.

Mr. Carnegie led the world as a giver last year. His total gifts amounted to upward of four million dollars. This was out of a total of $150,000,000 given by American benefactors during the year. The gifts of giving will be kept upon in the stars to his native town, gifts for the establishment of hero funds in a half dozen European countries, gifts for the establishment of several libraries, and a gift of $15,000 a year for five years for the establishment of a school in New York for the training of library workers. A dozen or more educational institutions commanded his giving interests during the year, ranging from $100,000 for Washington to $5,000 for Kenyon college. All of these avenues of giving will be kept upon in the stars to come by the Carnegie corporation.

On tomorrow's letter Mr. Haskin will discuss the Carnegie endowment for international peace and the plans of its founder and administrators for the abolition of war.

A Dainty, Delicious Delight

for the Summer days when the palate is tired of heavy meats and soggy pastries

Shredded Wheat Biscuit and Strawberries

Being made in Biscuit form it is so easy to prepare a delicious, wholesome meal with Shredded Wheat and berries or other fruits. The porous shreds of the Biscuit take up the fruit acids, neutralizing them and presenting them to the palate in all the richness of their natural flavor. Heat the Biscuit in the oven to restore crispness; then cover with strawberries or other fruits and serve with milk or cream, adding sugar to suit the taste. More nutritious and more wholesome than ordinary "short-cake" and so much easier to prepare requires no baking and no cooking.

Shredded Wheat is made of the whole wheat steamed-cooked, shredded and baked in the form of crisp golden brown Biscuits, ready to serve with milk or cream or fresh fruits.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 18. Stocks manifested increasing firmness today after early uncertainty. Trading was dull and unimportant, as that which marked recent operations. Favorable crop news, improvement in the steel industry and increasing ease in the money market combined to create this optimism.

The increasing demand for the output of the steel mills at higher prices was perhaps the most potent factor.
Equipment orders are coming along steadily, and this fact is beginning to find reflection in the stocks of the companies benefited.

Amalgamated Copper was another strong feature, deriving support from a better market at prices approaching recent high quotations, but without specially favorable news, but without specially favorable news, but without specially favorable news.

United States Government bonds continued to attract a heavy quotation. Purchased by U. S. & Co.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, July 18.—Likelihood of all crops being broken this season for wheat per acre throughout the northwest made a heavy wheat market today. The bush was at a loss of 2c to 3c.

Exports in Minnesota and the Dakotas reported perfect filling weather just at the right time to help bring about a wheat crop of unprecedented size, possibly as much as 275,000,000 bushels for the three states. Bearish sentiment was neutralized by advices from the Canadian northwest that some damage had been done by frosts.
Invariably though the market headed downward again, selling pressure being constant. September ranged from 99 1/2c to 100c, closing week at 99 1/2c.
Corn prices were underlined by the plentiful supply of new being offered freely at low figures to the east. September fluctuated from 64 1/2c to 65 1/2c and closing heavy 64 1/2c down at 64 1/2c.
Cash grain were dull. No. 2 yellow,
74 1/2c.

Despite the fact that oats finished at the lowest level this season, prices did not cover as wide a range as usual.
September ranged between 33c and 34c with last sales at 33c, just 1/2c below last night.

Democratization called the pork market in the end pork was off 2c to 3c. Lard, 25c to 12 1/2c, and ribs a shade to 3c.
